

CICONIA TOURIGA NACIONAL (ALENTEJANO) 2015

2019 New Year's resolution- drink better wine! And you don't need to break the bank in order to do so. Incredible value can be found in our Portuguese section, especially if your palate prefers complex, hardy red wines. Ciconia's Alentejano bottling is 100% Touriga Nacional. Historically used as a blending grape in Port, this bold varietal's potential for producing dry red wines has only recently been explored. A full body features dark plum, blueberry, and dried cassis with abundant tannic structure, and toasty elements from four months of oak ageing. Have a glass alongside venison stew, whiskey-glazed wild turkey breast, or oven roasted rosemary root vegetables. Cheers!

First and foremost; HAPPY NEW YEAR!! Since it's a fresh start I've brought in a fresh new cheese. Please welcome the latest edition to the food fridge, Beecher's Marco Polo. Beecher's first started in 2003, opening a shop in the historic Pike's Place Market in Seattle, with a strong philosophy to create food that was full of flavor while using only the finest and most trust worthy ingredients around. In honor of Marco Polo who is credited with introducing Europe to pepper in the 13th century, this favorite amongst the fleet of Beecher's artisan cheeses is both savory and buttery, infused with milled black and green peppercorns that is sure to please the palate. Usually $6.99 per 3.75oz wedge, Beecher's Marco Polo will be on sale this week for $4.99. Cheers and Bon Appetit!

Upslope Brewing

This week we feature a holiday classic that seems to only get better every year. Upslope Brewing's Lee Hill Series Vol. 18 contains the same spiced, wild Christmas ale base that we've grown to love only this year's fermentables are fresh Balaton cherries. The pour releases a sharp aroma of tart cherries, mulling spices, cherry jam, and sour citrus from the acidulated culture along with a slight barnyard funk. On the palate, tart cherries and woody oak tannins energize even the deepest reaching taste buds followed by a thick wave of cherry juice that carries jolts of acidic green apple and lemon. Autumnal spices peek through near the end with enough tart cherry still present to round out this nearly pie-like canned dessert. Come in today and pick up a royal pint of Upslope Brewing's Wild Christmas Ale. Cheers!
