

BOTANI MOSCATEL

OLD VINES 2018

MoscateL, also known as Muscat, is a grape most commonly made into sweet wines or used in the production of Sherry. Recognizing that ethereal dry wines could be produced by the varietal, winemaker Jorge Ordoñez created his "Botani" bottling from old vine Muscat of Alexandria grown on solid slate slopes in Málaga along the southern coast of Spain. The vines are dry farmed and produce very little fruit, creating ample concentration that translates into a richly flavored wine.

Aromas of jasmine, honeysuckle, and papaya complement an array of tropical flavors such as apricot, orange zest, and tangerine. Try a glass alongside intensely flavored foods with a touch of heat, like fresh tilapia topped with mango habanero salsa.
