

LA VIERGE NOIR PINOT NOIR 2015

The La Vierge vineyards, or The Virgin Vineyards, are located in the Hemel-en-aarde region of South Africa (part of Walker Bay), 80 kilometers southeast of Cape Town. In the Aafrikans language Hemel-en-aarde translates to Heaven and Earth, and the terroir in the region is exactly that. Along with this mystical feel of Heaven and Earth, the coastal proximity and maritime climate make for ideal growing conditions for Pinot Noir. This cool climate Pinot is sexy and savory with a bit of grit and bright red fruit notes. Raspberry and red currant show brilliantly on the palate with deeper notes of black cherry and mushroom throughout the wines lovely layers. This wine would go wonderfully with a lean filet, mashed sweet potatoes and a savory bed of green beans. Cheers!

This week's food pick infuses chili heat with honey and the combination literally has endless possibilities on what it goes best with! Mikes Hot Honey is the leading brand of honey that has a kick behind it. Infused with chili peppers, founder and maker Mike Kurtz fell in love with the flavor profile while studying abroad in Brazil where he found himself in a pizzeria where the combination was in a bottle on the table. He brought that inspiration back to the states with him when he began apprenticing at the legendary Pauli Gee's pizzeria of Brooklyn, NY in 2010. He would drizzle his homemade chili honey on their signature Hellboy Pizza, and it became an instant hit with customers. He began making small batches at customer request, sold exclusively at the pizzeria, and soon enough this inspired a whole new category for honey in the US and is now widely sold and available throughout the country. Besides pizza, this honey is awesome on so many different things. Try in a cocktail, like a margarita, on desserts, wings, side dishes like roasted brussels sprouts or with your favorite cheeses. Usually $9.99 per 12oz jar, Mike's Hot Honey will be on sale this week for $7.99. Cheers and Bon Appetit!
